Eine Urkunde v. 8. Febr. 1797 besagt, daß Parnoss Hirsch Abraham sein Haus um 800 Gulden an seinen Enkel Abraham Joel Weikermann verkaufte. Dieser Abraham Joel war Urgroßvater Abraham Joel Weikermann, der das Haus von seinem Großvater unter der Bedingung so billig erhielt, daß er ihn zeitlebens darin umsonst wohnen läßt.

Die Familie Weikermann wohnte ursprünglich viele Jahrhunderte in Breitenau bei Feuchtwangen, soll jedoch früher lange Zeit in Rothenburg / Tauber gewohnt haben, von wo sie bei einer Judenverfolgung als Emigranten nach Breitenau flüchteten. Gegen Ende des 30 jährigen Krieges zogen sie dann nach Feuchtwangen u. erwarben das Haus, das später Parnoss Hirsch Abraham seinem Enkel Abraham Joel Weikermann gab. Das jetzige Haus No 130 in Feuchtwangen das Vetter Herman Weikermann besitzt, wurde im Jahre 1740 von einem Arzte erworben.
